PROFILE

Design-trained creative leader with 15+ years and a creative and content foundation at its core — brand systems, art direction, campaigns, content and social. Has built and led two in-house creative centres of excellence (across ANZ at AVJennings and across Asia Pacific at PageGroup) — so brings both the craft and the operating discipline to lead an established creative function and lift the quality, coherence and ambition of its work. Pairs creative direction with the governance and quality frameworks — briefing, brand standards, sign-off — that let a studio move fast without losing consistency. Certified Marketing Professional with award-winning brand work delivered in regulated, financial-services-adjacent environments.

Creative & Digital Experience Director

AVJennings · Sydney · Apr 2018 – Sep 2025

Built and led the in-house creative, content and digital function across Australia & New Zealand — a centre of excellence that replaced fragmented agency output with one high-performing studio.

- Built the in-house creative & content studio from the ground up — team, briefing systems, brand governance and quality frameworks — so the business could own its storytelling end-to-end across ANZ.
- Developed and rolled out national brand systems aligned to masterbrand principles, with art direction and creative standards applied consistently across regions and channels.
- Led brand and campaign development across the full customer journey — content, video, photography, digital and social — and advised executive leadership on creative direction for major campaigns.
- Cut reliance on external agencies while improving speed to market by ~60% and lifting craft and consistency across every channel.
- Delivered award-winning brand work — Brandie Award (Best Community Branding), Reader's Digest Marketing Awards, and Best Property Website (International Property Awards).

Head of Creative Services, Asia Pacific

PageGroup · Singapore & Sydney · Jun 2014 – Mar 2018

Led a high-volume, multidisciplinary creative studio across Asia Pacific — and transformed it into a strategic creative and content function spanning multiple countries and business units.

- Re-built the APAC studio as a centre of excellence — shifting from output-on-demand production to brand-led creative, content and campaign development.
- Developed regional content, video and social strategies that grew engagement and brand visibility across digital channels and markets.
- Ensured consistent brand application across markets within global brand frameworks; introduced workflows, briefing and governance that improved delivery and quality at scale.
- Defined performance standards and built team capability across design and production.
